ISSUE BASED CREATIVE WORKSHOPS

'Wow!! What you have put together is amazing! It has been brilliant seeing the boys so engaged. Using the issues and rap to get them to work together on writing and talking about masculinity has really worked.' The Connected Hub, Brighton

'It helped me realise what's actually happening on social media...made me more aware.'
Participant

'Brilliant use of creativity to engage young people in important issues.' PSHE Secondary Advisor, Brighton and Hove City Council.

MOVEMENT BASED WORKSHOPS

'Working on these movements with a professional has been engaging and insightful, I have found it really interesting how the same movements can be taught in new ways. Both the talk and the workshop have given me advice and experiences that I will be using more throughout my dance practice and in the outside world.' BA Student, Choreographic Workshop

'I feel challenged by the workshop today. I am beginning to understand the benefits of being me and what I can bring creatively, intellectually and physically. I am empowered as a feminist and female dancer.' BA Student, Choreographic Workshop

'I have learnt that as a performer I am always visible' BA Student, Choreographic Workshop

MENTORING

'I cannot thank you enough. Both for pushing me and having faith in me, but also for helping me pull this project apart so I am creating the piece that wants to be made.' Emma Jayne Park

'People who said they seen me before, said I've grown as an artist...it is really because of you I have this show and I can't thank you enough.' Yami Löfvenberg

'After the first week she turned me on my head but now... I am making connections, not just random episodes ...it's her attention to detail. (It's) been one of the best experiences in a studio like ever...!' Keira Martin
