Intercourse, Vincent Dance Theatre's controversial debut production, directed by internationally acclaimed dance maker Gregory Nash, powers through the brutality and deep internal upheaval implicit in sexual possession. Intercourse is political, personalised physical theatre, in which fierce partnering and quiet, reflective solo work seize upon the fragile human quest for intimacy and kindness against a backdrop of male ownership, power and deviancy.

Please note: This piece contains nudity, graphics and language which some people may find offensive.

This rousing athletic company present the premiere of their new work Emasculating Masculinity. A group of men investigate their roles in society, what is expected of them versus what they need for themselves. Exploring sexuality and emotion within vibrant physical dance theatre. Side by Side are already an acclaimed company within Sheffield, as The Guardian says 'this is dance with heart and soul'.

We suggest booking early for this performance as there are limited tickets due to site lines.
